SELF STUDY RETREAT

Forces the Institution to "Know Thyself"

Participants at Self Study Retreat listen keenly...

The ancient Greeks' exhortation "know thyself" reflects the need for self-examination in the lives of not just individuals, but institutions such as the H. Lavity Stoutt Community College. Through self-examination, we learn to identify our strengths, challenges and successes, as well as identify where opportunities for growth may lie.

On Friday 25th January, nearly 80 faculty and staff engaged in a kick off meeting towards a self-study analysis, as the institution seeks to achieve the final milestones of becoming an accredited institution during 2015. (See HLSCC website for more)
